Apartment-House Owners Advised to Raise Rents Now; Reduce Them Later

Apartment house owners were urged to make their rates high enough now so they will be prepared to reduce them within from two to five years, when the present prosperity will recede, in a speech by President Wilson at a banquet of 100 Eastbay and San Francisco landlords last evening at Key Route Inn.

"These who have not raised their rents, foolish," he declared. "When the good times are at an end the tenants will have no consideration for the landlord; they will move unless the rent is lowered. I recall the case of a public-spirited apartment house owner in San Francisco who refused to raise his rates in a period of high prices after the fire. As soon as other apartments were built his tenants deserted him for the newer places."

"Oh, Lord, give us this day courage to charge a legitimate price," was the slogan suggested by Louis Aber, president of the Alameda County association, and acclaimed enthusiastically by the banqueters.

DOCKSTRIKERS JOBS IN S. F. HARBOR FILLED

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—Following a standing vote in favor of continuing the strike, members of the dockworkers' union are today watching 800 non-union longshoremen unloading the cargo from harbor wharves. The vote to remain out and not submit the question to further parley came yesterday after three hours of secret discussion in Hagles hall, Golden Gate avenue.

The recommendation of a Central Labor Council committee that the compromise offer of the employers be put to a secret ballot was voted down and a counter recommendation was made, in which the union members demanded that the council help the longshoremen by taking a stand for the cargo-handlers or stop demanding a secret vote.

In the meantime, the non-union men are working without hindrance from the union handlers. A campaign of advertising will be conducted by the employers, it is claimed, to get more men from the western and southern states.

Woman's Hiding Place Revealed Officers Baffled for Three Months

Herman the Great never invented a more perplexing disappearing act than did Mrs. White, 330 Lake street, who has eluded them with mystifying skill for two and a half months.

Mrs. White alleges in her suit that she is half owner of the Pacific Pine company, each of the other owners having a one-fourth interest in the other half. She claims that Blum sold his interest to her and that she was thereby dissolved. She says the business is a partnership with her and that they have refused her an accounting. She asks for a receiver.

The plaintiff demurred to her suit and in an effort to secure a change of venue and prepare other defense they sought to have her appear before a notary and give testimony concerning certain phases of the matter. This she objected to doing and took refuge in her hiding place whenever the process servers would appear.

When the deputies appeared with the warrant authorizing them to break down the door, the door opened mysteriously to their ring. A young woman stood there armed with a rifle, the deposition of Deputy Jesse Brown states. She did not attempt to defend the house, but readily surrendered her weapon.

WOMAN CHARITY, CLUB LEADER DIES

ALAMEDA, Sept. 24.—Following an illness of six weeks, resulting from a fall in her home when her hip was fractured, Mrs. Mary Frances McGurn, pioneer of Nevada and California, charity worker and club leader of this city, died today at her home, 2017 Central avenue.

Piercing services will be held Friday afternoon at Christ Church here, in which congregation she had long been a worshiper.

Born in Boston, 24 years ago, Mrs. McGurn came west in 1872, settling in Virginia City, Nevada. For twenty years she resided on the Carson River, coming to the Bay region in 1892 to live. She resided in Alameda until her death. One son survives, Charles C. Gardner.

Mrs. McGurn was the daughter of Captain William Hendee, Boston sea captain, who steered his ship through the Golden Gate in the early '50's. He rounded the Horn from Boston and brought one of the first cargoes and passengers lost in the gold rush. A brother to the darling Down East sea captain was Joshua Hendee, who later founded the Joshua Hendee Iron Works, a San Francisco concern. Mrs. McGurn, upon the death of her uncle many years ago, inherited a large interest in the transbay firm.

Her charities were many and her civic interests varied. She was the first Red Cross chairman in the district, having assumed control of the organization's affairs while the Spanish-American war was on. Her office at this time was in San Francisco. For many years she was president of the Adolphus Club in this city. As an officer in the Home for Friendless Children, San Francisco, she was well known to poverty-stricken families and charity workers.

PAYMENTS DIRECT TO CHIEF, LLOORZ CHARGES.
The January, February, March and April payments were made directly to the chief, Lloorz testified, because he refused to have any further dealings with Cockrell. The April payment, he said, was cut in half, that is to $125, because the Bartenders' club had had to close half of the month while the "craft" of former State Senator Judge Grant was being conducted.

In May he said he paid $250 more to the chief. Nedderman was east during all of June, he testified, and the payment for June was made about July 9 or 10 at Nedderman's home. In August he said he paid him again, but in September the amount was again cut to $125 because of a newspaper "expose" that closed the club for half the month.

During all of the time that he was paying "protection money," Lloorz said, he was conducting illegal gambling games at the Bartenders' club, including craps, blackjack and studhorse poker, played as banking games contrary to the provisions of the penal code.

Today was "Ducat-Hounds' Day" at the city hall, when "Ducats" or free passes to tonight's prize fight at the auditorium were passed out to city officials, according to weekly custom. The distribution was made through the city clerk's office. These getting free passes were Mayor John L. Davis, Commissioner F. P. Morse, W. H. Edwards, W. J. There were no passes for Commissioner F. P. Morse, who recently caused the raising of the rent of the auditorium for prize fights.

U.C. MEN WILL VOICE DIVERSE LEAGUE VIEWS

BERKELEY, Sept. 24.—Opposite viewpoints on the proposed League of Nations covenant will be taken by two well known members of the University of California faculty at a meeting of the Berkeley Center of the California Civic League to be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in Unity Hall.

Joel H. Hildebrand, former lieutenant colonel in the United States Army and professor of chemistry at the state university, will uphold the league covenant as advocated by President Wilson while Charles E. Merriam, professor of international law, will pick out objections in the document.

Professor Martin will discuss objections in the treaty other than those raised by Senator Hiram Johnson.

Tomorrow's meeting will be open to the public and will be preceded by a business session beginning at 2:30 o'clock.

Load All Cars to Capacity, Is Plea Merchants' Exchange Takes Action

In its efforts to assist the United States railroad administration in overcoming the car shortage with which the country is confronted, the Merchants' exchange, through a committee appointed for the purpose, has taken the matter up with various shippers, who have promised to load cars to capacity and to unshipped shipments promptly so that the movement of railroad traffic may be facilitated.

The committee recently appointed by the exchange made its report at a meeting last night. It comprises W. P. Scott, chairman; George W. Hatch, E. F. Muller and A. G. Tarr. Following the report of the committee the exchange adopted the following resolution:

"Resolved, by the Merchants' exchange of Oakland, That all shippers of carload lots be requested to load cars to full capacity and shippers of less than carload be urged to combine shipments in order to load cars to capacity.

"Resolved, That the press is requested to give this matter publicity, so that perishable shipments may be conserved before the coming winter."

Congestion of traffic and frequent accidents on East Twelfth street, between First avenue and Tullon street, has prompted the exchange to take steps to urge the importance of extending East Twelfth street through from Fallon street to Second avenue with a culvert over the inlet to Lake Merritt. Also it is the purpose of the exchange, as announced at the meeting, to advocate the extension of Lakeshore boulevard southward from East Twelfth street to connect with the proposed extension of East Twelfth street.

It is the belief of the merchants that with the proposed improvements the congestion on East Twelfth street in the vicinity of the auditorium would be greatly relieved, as much traffic that now uses East Twelfth street at that point would be diverted to East Twelfth street, while traffic on Lakeshore boulevard would likewise be distributed by the extension of the boulevard.

The committee appointed to make an investigation and report to the exchange comprises A. Jones, chairman; Theodore Gier, A. Schlueter, R. M. Hemmingsen and Wilbur Walker.

The exchange signified its intention of assisting in the movement to establish a public health center in Oakland and a committee to handle the details was named. It comprises J. Downey, chairman; George W. Hatch, J. H. Pelegri, C. H. J. Truman and I. H. Spire.

BERKELEYANS WIRE JOHNSON TREATY PLEA

BERKELEY, Sept. 24.—The following telegram, signed by prominent residents of Berkeley, has been sent to Senator Hiram Johnson:

"We have heard the President's message on the peace treaty and the League of Nations. We have also considered carefully all the objections offered to ratification. The issue is the most important presented to the American people since the Civil War. It is far above all personality or partisanship. We are convinced that the treaty should be ratified without amendment or reservations.

"Peace and peace on the permanent basis of open arbitration, inquiry and discussion before resort to war is vital to the welfare of the American people and the welfare of the world. America must not be false to herself and refuse such a peace except for the most weighty reasons. In our judgment the objections to ratification are not sufficient and should not hold us back.

"We are confident that we speak for the overwhelming majority of the people of California, in asking you not to harbor the ratification of the treaty by amendments or reservations."

Those who signed the telegram are: J. A. Morris, L. W. Hink, J. S. Mills, Charles H. Hunt, Chas. Keeler, Edward Lamb Parsons, Mrs. W. W. Douglas, Charles Mills Gayly, Mrs. S. S. Johnson, Louis Bartlett, Robert G. Sprout, Raymond C. Brooks, Mrs. J. Kouchan, George M. Stratton, Duncan McDuffie, C. H. Rieber, Mrs. Lewis A. Hicks, Mrs. Oscar Barber, Harold B. D. Speight, Leon J. ## FOUR GOLD-STRIPE MEN ARRIVE SOON

In two special trains the California contingent of the first division, which won distinction on the battlefronts of Europe, and whose members were decorated with foreign and American medals for bravery in action, is expected to arrive here next Saturday morning.

According to L. P. Newton, in charge of the troop movement section of the United States Railroad Administration, the trains probably will reach here shortly after midnight. The men will come in their cars until 6:30, when they will be breakfasted by the Red Cross canteen workers prior to their departure for the demobilization camp at the San Francisco Presidio.

The trains are coming over the Southern Pacific-El Paso route and will pull into the Third-street station, San Francisco. There are 650 men in the contingent from all units of the division and all from California points. Their arrival will bring the first "four-stripes" into the bay cities, men who are entitled to wear four gold chevrons denoting two full years overseas.

MERE MAN PROVES HE HAS MEMORY

Peter Johnson, testifying today before Judge Brown in the divorce suit of Mrs. Margaret Christ against Herman Christ, owner of the "Tip Cafe," astounded the judge by his memory of dates and events. The judge thought it was remarkable for a mere man to recall after two years that the baby was 17 days old when the mother came home from the hospital; which incident was only an example of the details of the domestic affairs of the Christ which clung in his memory.

Witnesses testified that Mrs. Christ had said the cafe was the hang-out of thieves, drug addicts and pickpockets. The license was revoked by the city council.

Gems Missing From Safe in Residence

Loss of a valuable ring, set with diamonds and other gems, is reported to the police today by A. A. Moore, of 1946 Sixth avenue. Moore says that the ring, the property of his late wife, is missing from a safe in his home, and that he does not know whether it was misplaced or stolen.

MILLS COLLEGE PLANS POOL DRIVE

Mills college next week under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Riehm-Stoner, head of the physical education department, begins a drive for funds which will make possible a swimming pool. Plans and estimates of the proposed pool will be submitted shortly. A substantial gift from one of the trustees has already been made toward the fund.

A fashion show and performance by the girls in the physical education department will be staged Friday night, October 3, in the gymnasium as one of the features of the financial drive.

Miss Nadine Barbe, one of the 122 French girls who have been named by the French government to complete their university work in the women's colleges of the United States, is receiving a royal welcome at Mills college where she arrived last week to join Miss Marie-Louise Chausser, a senior who entered a year ago. Miss Barbe completed three years' work in the University of Paris. Later she spent a year in study in England.

Women Learn Old-Time Verse For Recitation

By EDNA B. KINARD.
When Freedom from her mountain height,
Unfurled her standard to the sky.
She took the azure robe of white,
And set her stars of glory there.

Remember that old classroom classic which lost all its beauty and meaning because as apple-cheeked and on freckle-faced lad, teacher constrained you to learn the whole of Drake's "Address to the Flag" under penalty of staying after school? There are a score, or perhaps more, of grown-up women in Oakland centering California Civic League, who are getting out their discarded readers or discarded readers of Johnny and Mary, to redeem a pledge. They promised Mrs. Mary F. Merrill, leader in the class of parliamentary law, that they would commit to memory before October 10, when the section formally opens its work, at least the first two stanzas of that patriotic poem which has been handed down from mother to daughter and father to son. Once, no doubt, they knew those smoothly gliding words which pictured the creation of the Stars and Stripes, but years crowded all the poetry out and only memories are left. When they have again chained the verses, what then?

"Concert recitation is quite as interesting and wholly as important as community singing," Mrs. Merrill has declared. "We cannot all sing but we can all recite. It is good for our souls and spirits."

So it is that concert recitation is to become a feature of the sessions of that parliamentary class on the training of the second and fourth Fridays of each month at Hotel Oakland. The exquisite things which were punishments in the old school readers will be resurrected, committed to memory and mothers and grandmothers are promised a new pleasure in the recitation.

It is good to get back sometimes to the old things, and it's a safe wager that class members will be bright on time for the recitation hour which avoids the embarrassment of the community sing. At any rate the civic women will know a bit more about the patriotic verse of their nation at the end of the year than they do now.

Edith Beals and Ethlyn Thayer are members of Michigan's forest fire-fighting brigade.

When the United States shall have decided that tremendous question of which relates to the League of Nations, and the League of Nations, local women will be fully aware of those matters which contributed toward the vital decision. They are studying from all sides this great issue which has ever confronted the American people. Berkeley center, California Civic League, will tomorrow listen to Professor Joel H. Hill, brand of the University of California, set forth the arguments which are urged in favor of the adoption of the League. Dr. Charles E. Martin, lecturer on international law, will group the objections which are found against its acceptance.

The public speaking and drama section of Edell, in a little intimate group, will wage the battle of the League of Nations among themselves in an effort to arrive at a fair decision.

Among the Pharis and Norwegians there are many women sailors.

That California branch, Association of Collegiate Alumnae, will have a year of notable programs as assured by the announcement that it made that Dr. Aurelia Reinhardt, president of Mills college, has accepted the chairmanship of the newly formed program committee. Dr. Reinhardt's position enabled her to learn of the visits of many distinguished men and women, and it is logical to suppose that she will extend them an invitation to appear before the body of college graduates.

It is claimed that New Jersey has over 2,000,000 club-women.

This is the day that the Oakland club has made merry at the Claremont hotel, celebrating the first luncheon of the season by making Dr. Clarence Reed the guest of honor. With Dr. Reed, Robert Robinson, Mrs. R. H. Rogers, vice-president of Alameda district, C. P. W. C., were speakers at the program of the later hour. Miss Margaret Kohlmer and William Wright contributed musical numbers.

Miss Theresa Russell, president, presided as toastmistress. Mrs. J. M. Bonner as chairman of the day was assisted by Mrs. John Chestnut, Mrs. C. S. Chamberlain, Mrs. Vincent Chloupek, Miss Sarah Beamin, Mrs. J. L. Silva.

Recent census figures show that in New York City there are 2500 more women than men.

Home economics and Americanization have a very intimate relationship as Mrs. W. C. Crues, chairman of home economics, Alameda district, C. P. W. C., will explain to the household arts section of the Adelphean club, tomorrow afternoon, in presenting the program of her department for the year.

Over 1500 women are employed by the street railway companies in New York City.

Some of the problems of women will be outlined by Mrs. Helen Sweet Artieda tomorrow afternoon before the Claremont School Parents-Teachers association. In fostering the community spirit, the officers of the club extend an invitation to all women in the neighborhood to participate in their 2:30 p. m. program in the school auditorium.

CHEER FUND SHOW IS GREAT SUCCESS

The final production of the cheer fund show, "The Merry Musical," at the Auditorium theater for the benefit of the Berkeley and Oakland Elks Christmas cheer fund, went over for a big success. The occasion took on the spirit of carnival and at the close of the second act the audience, which occupied each of the 1551 seats, with many standing, looked a veritable rainbow of serpentine.

The pretty streamers curved over the heads of the people, over the balconies and the footlights. Great bundles of it was gathered up and used as a pillow lights.

The curtain went up in the midst of the scene of care-free frolic for the final act to the accompaniment of cheer that drowned the first measures of the chorus. Each of the twelve big song and dance numbers was greeted with insistent demands for repetition, and at the close there were persistent calls for the author of the play. A reception awaited the author likewise when he went behind the scenes at the finale, where he was cheered by the company.

The show was really a triumph for amateur dramatics. Not once during the two performances did the promoters have to whisper a cue, and the acting, dancing and singing was up to a high standard of attainment.

The principals in the cast were: Charles Everett, De Carlo C. Clement, Richard Glessman, Harry Lind, Jeanette Condy, William J. Varcoe, Herbert J. Anderson, Dr. Pierre M. ## Kitchen Economies

There is a type of inexpensive meat dish that is very popular with the housewife—the so-called "one-plate" dish. It is usually a combination of a small amount of meat with vegetables, rice, etc. If plenty of fresh vegetables are used a most flavorful dish can be made which every one will enjoy.

No, it isn't a mere "stew"—which always suggests left-overs—but a casserole, freshly prepared. And not only does the family enjoy it, but the tired housekeeper who sees all the nutritious elements of the meal prepared in one dish enjoys that much more than the meal which required less work in cooking and less in subsequent dish washing.

MEAT CORN PUDDING.
2 cups of corn.
1 pound of chopped beef.
1 tablespoonful of butter.
1 tablespoonful of flour.
1 teaspoonful of chopped onion.
1 cupful of stock.
Salt and paprika to taste.

The butter is browned in a saucepan with the chopped onion, then flour is added, browned and beef stock poured in. The mixture is stirred smooth, then salt and paprika to taste are added. Meat and corn are put in a baking dish in layers, each layer being seasoned, and the sauce poured over. The top is dotted either with breadcrumbs or with crumbed cheese if preferred.

It is baked covered, in the oven for half an hour, and uncovered for 20 minutes more.

VEGETABLE OMELETTE.
1 cupful of chopped veal.
1 cupful of softened bread-crumbs.
1 cupful of hot milk.
2 eggs.
2 tablespoonfuls of butter.
2 tablespoonfuls of cornstarch.
1 tablespoonful of flour.
1 teaspoonful of salt.

The butter, flour, cornstarch, milk and seasonings are cooked to a smooth sauce, beaten well, and then the veal and bread-crumbs are added. After removing from the fire the well-beaten yolks of 3 eggs are added, then the stiffly-beaten whites are folded in. The whole is placed in a buttered baking dish and baked while standing in a pan of hot water for about 15 minutes in a moderate oven. This can be served with a mushroom, tomato or other spicy sauce.

Here are some attractive recipes in the fritter line:
CURRENT JELLY SAUCE.
1 tablespoonful of cornstarch.
1/4 cupful of sugar.
1 cupful of boiling water.
2 tablespoonfuls of currant jelly.
1 teaspoonful of butter.
Juice of 1/2 lemon.

Mix the cornstarch and sugar in a saucepan, add water gradually. 6 minutes. Add butter and lemon juice just before serving.

CHICKEN FRIITTERS.
1/2 pint of boiling water.
1/2 cupful of shortening.
2 eggs.
1/2 cupful of flour.
1 tablespoonful of left-over ham, chopped.

Favorite Journeys

It is said there is no more popular children's story—unless it is "Cinderella"—than "Robinson Crusoe". Not only does it still lure the imaginations of our own youngsters, who are inheritors of the tongue in which it was written, but it grips the fancies of children of every tongue in nearly every land where books are printed and read. France is no different from other lands in its liking for this romantic story and for the picturesque figure of Robinson Crusoe himself.

It is in his honor, indeed, that a little village just outside Paris, named after the famous Frenchman, perpetuates Robinson Crusoe's name there also to perpetuate, or at least to symbolize, the sort of time he had or is thought to have had while he was on his famous desert island. Perhaps they also wished to point out that in their village they were demonstrating the kind of a time he would like to have had, if he had returned from his island to civilization.

These quaint treacherous houses are nothing more nor less than tea houses. Persons who visit Robinson Crusoe's island, climb a little stairway into one of the treacherous houses, scan the bill of fare and send down their orders in a basket to the ground. There the orders are filled and the refreshments are placed in the basket. Then the basket is hoisted to the tea house, where the guests take the viands and have a picnic high above the earth.

These quaint tea rooms aren't the only attractions of the village of Robinson. As to offer Robinson, indeed, is a veritable Coney Island, with merry-go-rounds, dance halls, motion pictures and many other excellent and money-attracting amusements. There may not be the variety one is accustomed to in the real Coney, or in other places of like character in this land, but the abundant in whatever we undertake. But there are enough amusement devices to make a visit with Robinson worth while, for tea in a treacherous house itself presents possibilities worthy even of the memory of the redoubtable adventurer as Robinson Crusoe.

EGGPLANT FRITTERS.

REVELATIONS of a WIFE

by ADELE GARRISON.

I thought of Lillian, of how she would bear herself in this emergency, and I put from me all my unworthy tremors. What was to be, I said to myself fatalistically, and without another thought I went down my own dark, concentrated all my observant faculties upon the windmill standing before me. NIGHTS TOO LATE.

Each of my eyes traveled over its outlines, familiar to me through many admiring glances in days gone by. At first I could see nothing strange in the upper standard of the windmill, but after a moment of two I thought I saw something like wires following the outlines of the standards. I closed my eyes to be sure that I wasn't seeing things, but when I opened them again, and again searched the outlines of the windmill.

Yes, I wasn't mistaken. There were wires—many of them—cumulatively painted the same color as the standards, and following their lines so closely that even my scrutiny of the windmill when I was standing at the locked gate had failed to reveal them.

There was but one possible explanation of this. A secret wireless plant! My pulses leaped at the full significance of what I had discovered. I had seen the wires, I had seen the plant which it was possible to detach. That was the reason for the luxuriant growth of vines and the gay flower boxes I had noted upon my first appearance at the inn. It also explained the locked gate, and the sewing water, who had come scurrying out at my approach to the fence and entered the house.

I bitterly regretted the interest I had displayed in the enclosure around the windmill, my attempt to enter it, and, above all, my interest in the woman who lived in the house. If I hadn't thus betrayed myself, Mme. Hofer would have been the only woman I had met, and I should have been a tourist, and not a man who had come to see her.

Too late for regrets now. My car caught a foothold, so light that it felt like a feather. I closed my eyes, began to breathe as I had once heard a friend breathe who had been given morphine to relieve pain. She was a long way from me, but I should have heard it. I closed my eyes, began to breathe as I had once heard a friend breathe who had been given morphine to relieve pain.

"Mme. Graham," she exclaimed more loudly, "what is the matter with you?"

Her tones held alarm, whether genuine or cleverly counterfeited, I couldn't tell. A doubt crossed my mind. Was it possible, after all that I had been mistaken in my surmise?

HOW MME. HOFFER DISCLOSED THE TRUTH.
Mme. Hofer stood motionless for so long after shaking me and demanding to know what was the matter with me that I found the task of keeping up my stertorous breathing in feigned drugged stupor to be a most arduous one.

To the mere physical task was added the nervous strain of wondering whether the wine had been drugged after all. If it hadn't been, if there had been no conspiracy to detain or harm me, then I was in a supremely ridiculous position.

But just as it seemed as if I simply couldn't bear the silent scrutiny any longer without exclaiming or at least opening my eyes—for with her intent glance upon me I feared even to peer at her from beneath my umbrella—I heard her utter something to herself in German. I wasn't able to translate it literally, for my German is almost altogether a reading knowledge, but the sense of it was—"She really drank it then! I must get the others."

WHAT MADGE FEARS.
She hurried away, and when the sound of her footsteps, no longer cautious, had died away I ventured to relax my breathing, to open my eyes and to steel myself for the next ordeal which awaited me.

For my worst fears had been realized. The wine had been drugged, and whatever fate awaited me was in the hands of the ill-favored crowd I had seen in the dining room of the inn. I recalled the face of the ferret-faced youth who had consulted my notebook, showed it to his neighbor, and left the room, all within a few minutes of my first appearance in the dining room, and I shuddered.

The suspicion, which had seemed too ridiculous even to admit to myself, that his notebook contained a description of me, was apparently well founded. Otherwise they would hardly have dared or even thought it necessary to detain or harm an ordinarily inquisitive woman and a former patron of the inn at that.

That they had discovered I was connected with the secret service, and would stop at nothing to silence me, or, at least, to detain me until they could escape, I was now convinced. But where had the ferret-faced youth's description of me come from?

That was a very question to answer, although the answer made me quake with craven fear. Grace Brader and the man whose hand I had secured with carbolic acid when

Uncle Wiggly and Johnnie's Umbrella

Copyright, 1919, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
(By Howard H. Garis.)

It rained in Woodland, near the Orange Ice Mountain, where Uncle Wiggly Longears lived in a hollow stump bungalow near his animal friends. My, how the water came down!

It rained pitchforks and hoe handles and snails and puppy dogs' tails, and all like that. Uncle Wiggly looked from his hollow stump bungalow window, and then he gave a whistle on his pink, twinkling nose, and reached for his tall silk hat and his rheumatism crutch, striped red, white and blue like a barber pole.

"Goodness me," cried Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady if there had been no conspiracy to detain or harm me, then I was in a supremely ridiculous position.

"Well, guess I am," he answered. "I just saw Johnnie Bushytail, the squirrel boy, out in the rain and I'm coming out, too. Johnnie's having a lot of fun splashing through the puddles."

But you'll get all wet if you go out," cried Nurse Jane. "Answered Uncle Wiggly, 'Johnnie has a toadstool for an umbrella. I can keep pretty dry under that. I'm going out.'"

So out hopped the bunny rabbit gentleman, calling "Hi, Johnnie! Hi, Johnnie! Wait for me! I want to walk under your umbrella!"

"All right," chuckled the Bushytail squirrel boy. "We'll have lots of fun!"

So he waited and Uncle Wiggly ran out from his hollow stump bungalow, and the bunny rabbit gentleman and the squirrel boy went away they went as happy as clams.

It rained pitchforks and hoe handles, cats and dogs and snails and puppy dogs' tails, but neither Uncle Wiggly nor Johnnie minded it.

"I'm glad I came out!" said the bunny. "So am I!" added Johnnie. "I'm going to—"

And just then, all of a sudden, there came a heavy patter of rain—sort of extra special heavy like necessary to detain or harm an ordinarily inquisitive woman and a former patron of the inn at that.

The rabbit gentleman got all wet, and the squirrel boy got all wet, and the muskrat lady got all wet, and the toadstool umbrella, which had been under the squirrel boy, was now under the rabbit gentleman's foot.

The fame of acrobats ought to increase by leaps and bounds.

The SOUL CATCHER

by ABIMEDI ABULLAH.

"No. The telephone bell was ringing just then, and he went by himself, and when he came out again he said it suited him fine, and I told him to come back the next day to start work."

"Did he come back?"
"He did not—bad luck to him and plenty of it!"

"What did he look like?"
"Well, doctor dear, he looked like a furrier."

Pressed for particulars, Mr. O'Mahony admitted, nowise abashed, in fact rather proud of his ethnological limitations, that all thim furriers looked the same to him—as alike as peas in a pod, sort!"

"Think back a bit," encouraged the doctor. "Can't you recall one single tiny detail? The color of his skin, for instance?"

"Sure. It was sort of dark."
"What else? The shape of his nose, his chin, his beard? His height? How was he dressed? Heavens, man, you aren't blind, are you?"

O'Mahony scratched his honest, grizzled poll. Here was the doctor, the man he loved and admired most in all the world, and it was evident that for some reason he was anxious to find out something about this man who had come begging for a job as a gardener, and—

"Sure, Doctor dear!" he said, suddenly. "There was one little something that shirked me as funny about the furrier."

"What was it? Go on."
"His walk, sort. He walked with his big toes inside, like a duck—or maybe a parrot—an' he made niver a sound, an' his shoes were heavy and clumsy and—"

"Like a jungle beast?" suggested Dalrymple.

"Ye have it, sort!" O'Mahony exclaimed, triumphantly and admiringly. "Like one of them great cats that walk up and down behind their cage bars in the Bronx Zoo!"

After which Doctor Dalrymple bent his hand to the janitor's with a gentle tinkle of silver, asked to be remembered to Miss Mary O'Mahony, and went to the second floor to have a look at his patient.

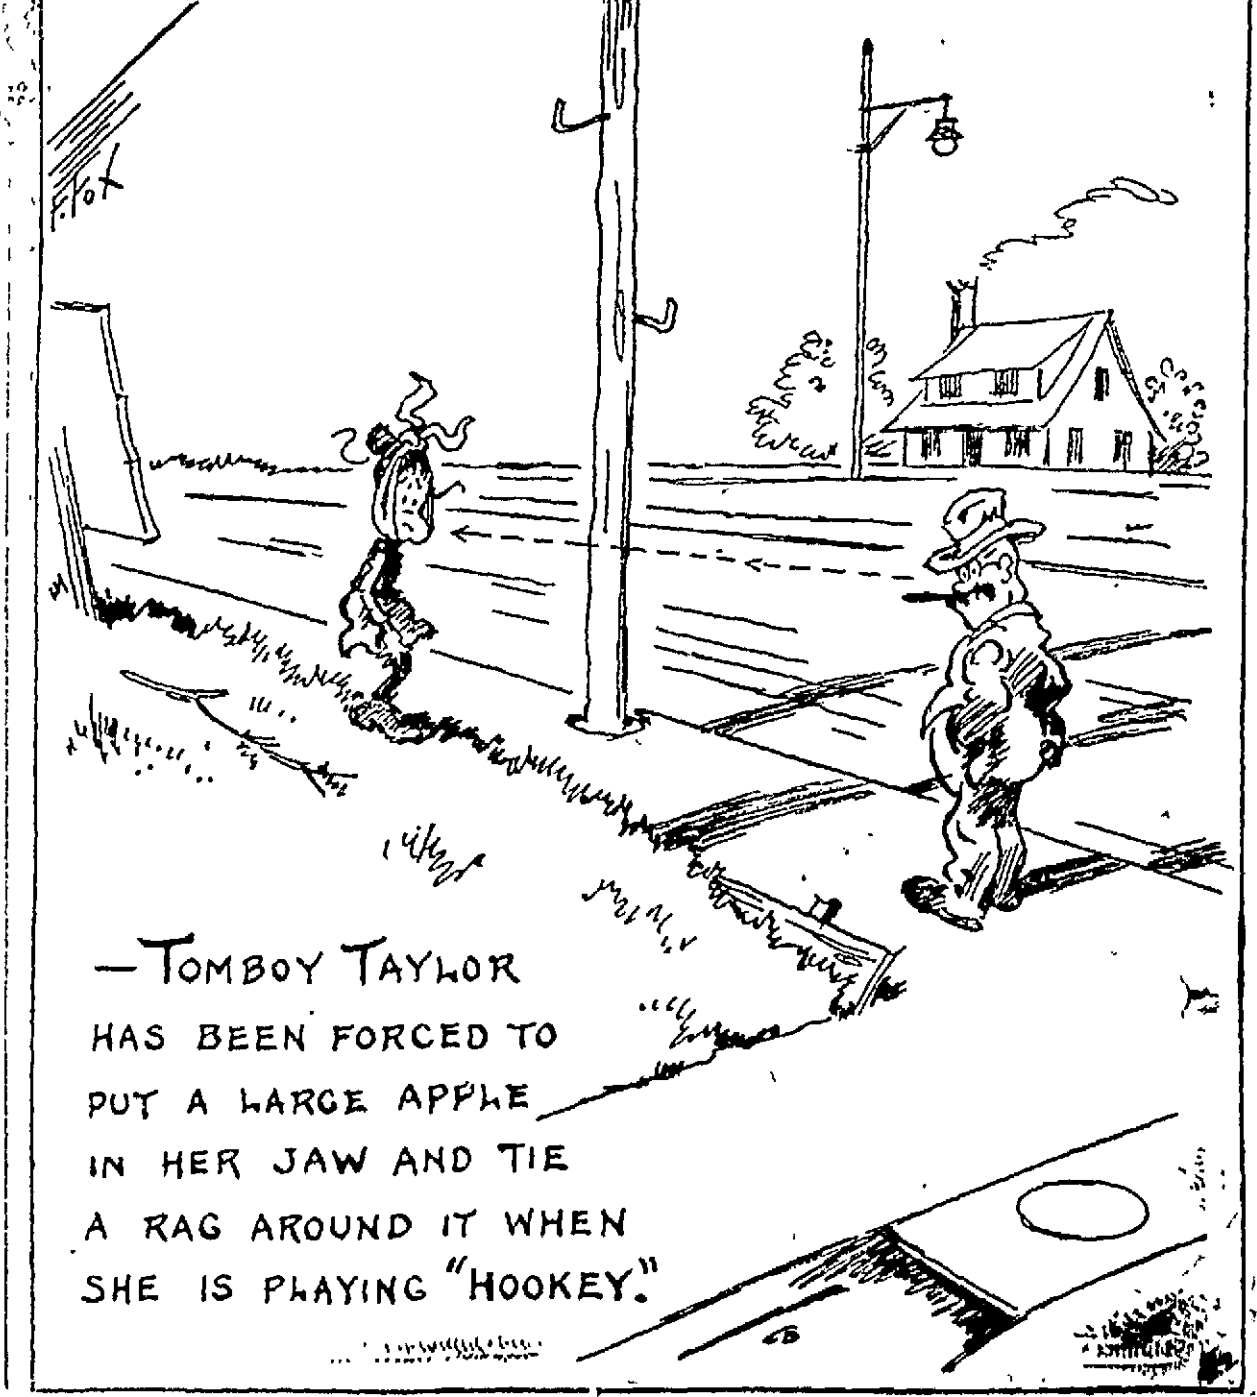

A few thousand years or so earlier, in the days when the contemporary Greek historians of the classic epoch began to falsify the records of history so as to make the public forget themselves for the time when they should be dead and buried and nobody left on the other side of the fence to contradict them, the Persians, who were too busy creating history and had thus little time to create historians, used to say that the men of Sparta excelled in lying, whereas their confederates of Athens specialized more in constructive stinkiness.

Mr. Alcibiades Catrepoulos, although his family had been natives of Asiatic Turkey for a number of generations, traced his paternal descent back to Sparta, his maternal to Athens.

This morning, he was awake—and worried. The latter state of mind was not the result of the strange "accident" which had befallen him the night before, of which all details seemed wiped over in his brain, and which he ascribed to an overdose of daw-daw-hashes in his good-night cigarette, nor, secondly, was it the result of his physical condition which, as the doctor had predicted, was excellent but for a couple of

Ask the Tribune

A Department of QUESTION & ANSWER

Editor THE TRIBUNE: In your "Ask the Tribune" column will you please answer this: Can a note given one or two years ago, payable in 10 days of the United States of America, with interest payable at the time terms, the note being now due—can the note be enforced as to terms of collection?

You cannot enforce the payment of any debt of the kind in gold coin, a debtor having the right to offer "legal tender," currency or silver coin, a cent piece is legal tender only to the limit of twenty-five cents, but "racy, silver and paper money are legal tender in any amount."

Editor THE TRIBUNE:—Will you kindly send me the most nearly correct answers you have to the following questions: How many men are on the fleet of boats? What number are officers? What is the cost of these maintenance per month?—Mrs. J. H. E. Pacific Grove. There are, normally, 25,000 men in the personnel of the Pacific fleet, or ex-fleet. Of these, approximately 1500 are officers. The total expenditure for food for these men is $18,200, or $546,000 a month. The salary is approximately $1,680,000 a month, an average of $60 a man.

CLOSE DECISION AT THE PLATE GIVES THE SEALS FIRST BLOOD IN SERIES WITH THE OAKS

GENE DELMONT SAYS HE IS IN CONDITION FOR FRANKIE MALONE

Proceeds of Tonight's Entertainment Will Be Turned Over to the American Legion

By BOB SHAND.

Gene Delmont, the Memphis featherweight, who boxes Frankie Malone in the main event at the Auditorium tonight, will have no excuses to offer on the score of not being in condition should he lose the verdict. It seems that Gene was matched to box Eddie Shannon at El Paso last Friday night, but the authorities stepped in and put the crusher on the match. Delmont trained two weeks for that bout and when it was called off he hopped a rattler at once and headed for Oakland. He worked out in the gymnasium yesterday and expressed satisfaction with his condition. Solly Harris, manager of Tom Cowler and who is also looking after Delmont's business affairs on the coast, is satisfied with the condition of his protégé and looks for him to give the local boy a fine walloping this evening.

Delmont is said to be fast and a fair hitter. He has boxed the best in the business and has been rocked to sleep but once, and it took Benny Leonard, the lightweight champion, to turn the trick. Delmont went seven tough rounds with the champ before he got his chin in the way of a ten-second wallop. Since that time Gene has been doing nicely, and experts look upon him as one of the best boys in the business. Perhaps he will lick Malone tonight and then he will go to the Coliseum across the bay to-morrow night. Malone meets Frankie Foxen in the main event at the Coliseum. Foxen is a local boy and he won't be worth a dime if Delmont wins his fight this evening.

Bad Feeling Between Arrousez and Dundee

There is bad feeling between Johnny Arrousez and Jimmy Dundee and the pair threaten to stage a fight when they meet in the special event. Arrousez was boxing preliminary and special events when Dundee was up against the opposition. Dundee did not like the idea of "Lucky" Arrousez and he made several remarks derogatory to the prizefighter. Dundee and Dundee. These remarks were of course carried to Dundee and Jimmy is sore clear through. He threatens to give Johnny a piece of his mind tonight and Johnny is willing to bet that "Lucky" is going to be disappointed. Although both are clever fighters, they are generally depend on their skill to win, the chances are that they will stage some toe-to-toe action and deliver the best they have. The winner will be in line for a match with the winner of the main event. There will be a big crowd at the Coliseum to see the fight. Promoter Simpson has not decided whether to stage the fight. Jimmy Ford was scheduled to meet Joe Stone's champion, but Jimmy called the promoter out of the market tonight. Johnson and Danny Nunes both went into training on the chance of getting a shot at the title. They will be selected tonight. Either will give the brawler a tough battle. Simpson will have no mistake.

Romeo and Reidy Are Willing to Fight

Red Murray will probably have the battle of the night with George Drew. When he discovered that George was a colored boy he called the match a "race" and he is "going to waste any time with him." Murray is willing to go on with the colored boy and unless Murray changes his mind some time this afternoon he will have to pay his money in. Kid Romeo and Harry Reidy, a pair of sluggers, are down to a pair of preliminaries, but what these birds don't know about boxing would fill a library. They are "fighters" and this one should end abruptly. Jack Hartley, recently discharged from the army, will make his debut in a local fight crowd with Harry Reidy on the other end of the bout. George Gallagher and Kid Anderson will provide the curtain raiser. The proceeds of tonight's show will be turned over to the Oakland branch of the American Legion. The local people will be able to see the fight and money to send delegates to the state and national conventions and a big crowd will pay the expenses.

TRIBUNE "B" LEAGUERS MEET ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Jerry Lawlor Prepares Schedule for Junior Managers to Approve; Big Games Sunday

By EDDIE MURPHY.

Jerry Lawlor, vice-president of The Oakland TRIBUNE Mid-winter Leagues, has called a meeting of the managers of the class B teams, to be held next Friday night at 8 o'clock in the meeting room of The TRIBUNE building. Jerry requests that only managers of class B teams be at the meeting, as he figures that there is quite a bit of work to go through before the class B boys will be ready for their start of the season, October 12, and furthermore, President Fred L. Krumb will have a meeting for the class A teams within the next couple of weeks. The class A boys are all ready to start, so there is no need of having them on the job Friday night.

Managers of class B clubs will learn at Friday's meeting where the opening games will be played and also where the other games of the schedule, prepared by "Hustings" Jerry Lawlor, will have place.

Lawlor has completed both the class A and B schedules, so when the class B meeting is held Friday night, both schedules will be ready to go. The meeting is the first of a series of winter season for the amateurs and semi-pros.

A few managers of class B teams have not yet put up the money required for the season, but they will come through with it next Friday night or see some other club take the place in the league.

Lawlor believes that the eight clubs now in the class B league should put up the money and be ready to start.

Another good schedule of games for the class B teams will be prepared by "Hustings" Jerry Lawlor, and will be ready to go when the class B meeting is held Friday night.

Only two more Sundays remain for teams in The TRIBUNE league to play independent ball, and on those two days the fans around the bay can expect to witness some big games. Next Sunday's program is the main event of the season.

The Crockett and Alameda teams will be the main event of the season. The Crockett team is a new team, and the Alameda team is a veteran team.

TRIBUNE PREPARED TO COVER WORLD'S SERIES IN USUAL THOROUGH MANNER

The Cincinnati Reds and the Chicago White Sox will play the first game of the 1919 world's series at Cincinnati next Wednesday, but it is not necessary for Oakland fans to go east to see the games.

The TRIBUNE, as usual, has made the most complete arrangements for "covering" the series and every play on the diamonds at Cincinnati and Chicago will be flashed here immediately.

The TRIBUNE has the combined news services of all other papers. The Associated Press, the International News Service and the United Press have wires direct to The TRIBUNE office.

That's why The TRIBUNE is supreme in sports as in every other department. It is impossible to miss anything with the COMBINED news service of competitors.

The best baseball writers in the east have been engaged to report the games for the three news services. They will call off the plays to telegraph operators who will send the story direct to this office. There will be only a second's delay between the actual plays and their appearance in type.

The sporting staff of The TRIBUNE, with many years' experience in handling big series, will take care of the news at this end of the line.

A box score will be compiled during the playing of the games and it will appear complete in the extra which will be on the streets shortly after the last man has been called out at Cincinnati or Chicago.

The extra will contain a complete description of the games. Every play will be given in detail to the strikes and balls called on the batters and there will be special stories by the country's best baseball experts.

Wait for The TRIBUNE Green. It will lead as usual.

CONNOLLY AND HUNTER SAVE CASEY SMITH FROM DISASTER

The Seals took the Oaks into camp in the first game of the series yesterday 3 to 1, but you will never be able to convince either Honus Mitze or J. Cal Ewing that the transbay boys were entitled to that victory. A close decision at the plate in the fifth was hotly disputed by Mister Mitze, who was working behind the log and by Mr. Ewing, who was working in the grandstand rooting for the Oaks. Schick had opened the inning with a hit and Roy Corhan bunted him along.

Joe Connolly dropped a safe one in right which Schick mended to third and Koerner was walked to jam the corners. Hunter shot one at Grover which he second to third and Koerner was walked to jam the corners. Hunter shot one at Grover which he second to third and Koerner was walked to jam the corners.

The ball and Mr. Schick made a close race at the plate. Empire 12 Pinney got his ground rules all crossed up and slipped. Willie home with the run that won the ball game. The first game at the local lot tomorrow will commence at 10 o'clock and the second will end some time later, we're not here to say when.

Sammy Bohne got gay with Casey Smith in the fourth inning yesterday and was finally walked to first. Sammy took his usual big lead and drew six throws from the Indians before Casey got the ball. Koerner in time to nail Mr. Bohne.

Del Howard has a severe cold and is sticking to the house these days. Captain Red Murphy handled the team yesterday. Red was recently ousted as captain but was reinstated. The outing was more of a joke than anything else.

Don Lambert, the St. Mary's College pitcher recently signed by the Oaks, worked out before the game. He may get a chance in the present series.

High School Rugby Games Being Played

The rugby teams of Fremont High of Oakland and that of Alameda High are put for games this afternoon with teams from San Francisco. The local boys are scheduled with the Poly team at Bay View playgrounds in West Oakland, while at Lincoln park, Alameda, Otto Ritter's High City rugger tackle the Corswell High.

Two Double-Headers In Present Series

Because J. Cal Ewing won a bloodless victory over Doc Strub there will be two double-headers this week. The game was postponed from the morning of Labor Day when the arrival of the fleet prevented the game from being played. The first half of the double-header will be played at 10 o'clock and the second half at 1:30 o'clock. The game will be played at Recreation Park, San Francisco. LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24.—Billy Shade of San Francisco, today is the proud possessor of one fine beating administered at Vernon last night by Steve Dalton. Shade wasn't knocked out, but he was beaten.

The event will be held under the auspices of the P. A. A. It will also be held in conjunction with a bathing girl revue.

MULDOON TO CAPTAIN ST. MARY'S

Matthew Muldoon, president of the student body, has been elected captain of the St. Mary's college football team for the coming year. Announcement of this was made today following a conference of the team, at which it was decided to place hopes in "Matty" as the pilot.

There is little doubt that Muldoon can get the team together behind him. He is a natural leader, and a fighter to the last. He stuck through last season against overwhelming odds. Even during the slaughter at the hands of the Bruins and another old man, Muldoon rallied with the rest.

This year it is admitted that a problem as great as those that were met last year, faced the team. It is undoubtedly a better team. Opponents are better, too, and the stakes are greater, as the entire state is apparently recognizing this year's war as one of the best in college sports. It was in full consideration of this that the St. Mary's men placed their trust in Muldoon.

Muldoon comes from the hamlet of Muldoon, in Alameda county. He is out for tackle. He carries almost 190 pounds around with him. Incidentally he is taking a law course in the college of arts and letters. He is also a senior on a co-scholarship. He has a fighting jaw in the bargain.

At the present time Muldoon is assisting Coach Wilson in putting the team through the scrimmage practice.

Jim Londos Defeats Chas. Nelson on Mat

Jim Londos surprised a fair sized audience of wrestling fans at Dream Land last night by pinning Charley Nelson to the mat two and a half times. The team gained credit for a fall over him in 10 minutes and 21 seconds. Londos won the first time in 10 minutes and 21 seconds and the second time in 23 minutes and 19 seconds. Angelo Caramanishi won the preliminary from Ivan Glanavich.

White Sox Are After That Other Victory

U. C. Varsity Footballers Beat Frosh

By DOUG. MONTELL.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA. Sept. 24.—With but a week of practice to their credit, the California Varsity went forth last night to do battle with the Frosh in the first scrimmage of the season. The varsity proved quite conclusively to the Frosh that a week is enough time in which to develop as much as the varsity. The varsity carried the ball over for one touchdown and had possession nearly all the time. Both sides were content with straight line plays and the Varsity executed the Frosh at this game.

The California backfield is a fighting, plunging aggregation, any four of a dozen of whom Andy Smith could put in as well as the others. The varsity did not seem to be in the race for that position at the present time. Karl has good control over the ball, drives them back and has a steady ground game. He is as well as a bear at grabbing forward passes.

During the game, the varsity played well. Percy Sprout played one-half last night and showed that he is far from being a simple. On several occasions he showed his power in the line. One of the best of the varsity players was only downed with five or six of them hanging on. Whenever they were downed, they were going to the varsity. The varsity is a team that is able to stop Percy when he is going right, and he is able to go in the line. The varsity is a team that is able to stop Percy when he is going right, and he is able to go in the line.

PERCY AND FERDIE---Yes, Miss Trixie Is a Great Little Fixer

GOSSIP FROM THE JUNGLES

By MAURY PESSANO.

When the Oakland Athletics take the field against the Best Tractors of San Leandro in the opening game of the California League, Big Bill "Red" McLean will be on the hill for the Athletics. The big right-hander, who is going like a leaguer for the Athletics club, will be in the best of form to work against the Tractors. Red has been in the Athletics club this season and has yet to taste defeat at the hands of a bunch club. Last Sunday his work was the best this season, when he pitched against the hard-hitting Richmond Irons club of San Francisco. He pitched a perfect game, and the Athletics won by a score of 10 to 0.

CALIFORNIA STRONGLY REPRESENTED IN THE 1919 WORLD SERIES

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—Pennsylvania has the distinction of having the largest representation in the baseball classic this year. Ten players from that state will battle for the highest honor in baseball, four of them are members of the Chicago White Sox, American league pennant winners and are members of the Cincinnati Reds, four winners in the senior organization.

The White Sox manager, William Gleason, heads the list of Quakers. Along with the fighting manager is Eddie Collins, one of the greatest known to the ball game. He is a native of Philadelphia. Also on the team is Ray Chapman, a pitcher, and a number of other players. The Reds have two pitchers, Ray B. Bessler and Ed Gerner, an outfielder, and a number of other players. The White Sox have a number of players from California, including Percy Sprout, who is a native of San Francisco.

World's Series Dope Gathered At Feed Box

By HENRY L. TARRIBELL, United Press Service Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Gleason has a better time patrolling his gamblers than Moran can produce. The outer defense of the White Sox doesn't rank with the greatest of the game, nor has it the smashing attack of the Tiger outfielders. But in Jackson, Felsch, Leibold and J. Collins, the American leaguers have a more formidable array of talent than Rousch, Neale, Magee and Duncan.

FOOTBALL SQUAD AT SANTA CLARA ENJOYS GOOD "EATS"

By HENRY C. VINT.

UNIVERSITY OF SANTA CLARA, Sept. 24.—The oldtime rivals who used to take a tumble up to Olympus now and then to have a round or two of ambrosial dew with Bacchus, weren't altogether wrong when they said the best way to reach a man's heart was through his stomach. Well, to complete the metaphor, Coach Harmon has reached the hearts of his squad through the properly constituted route, by arranging for the consumption of a winning table. For something like a week he has been preparing a special menu that will put his warriors into winning shape for the gridders when the season is fully on. And the dope seems to show that a number of the former and famous Rugbyites are in to show a hoap of Mount Vesuvius action.

THE PANGS OF RHEUMATISM

continue to suffer and grow worse until they are finally practically helpless, unless they realize that the disease must be combated at its source. Rheumatism is often a diseased condition of the blood, the disease attacks the body through the blood, hence the system can be rid of its pains only after the blood has been cleansed of the germs of the disease.

Lotions, liniments and ointments, applied to the surface may in some cases deaden the pain for the time being, but until you attack the disease at its foundation, you are making no progress toward a cure, and you are permitting the trouble to get a firmer hold on your system every day. This is one reason why Rheumatism is usually a permanent disease, staying with its victims year after year. Getting rid of the disease is merely a matter of treating it intelligently. Knowing that it cannot be cured by external applications, it is folly to rely upon such treatment.

S. S. S. is without question the most thorough blood medicine ever made, and it cleanses the blood of every impurity and disease germ. That is why it seldom fails to give satisfactory results in even the severest cases of Rheumatism. Being purely vegetable without a particle of mineral or chemical in its composition, it works by eliminating and forcing out of the blood all impurities, acting as a tonic to the entire system at the same time. It has been in use for more than fifty years and thousands of sufferers from rheumatism give it unstinted praise.

You are invited to write our medical department for full information and advice about the treatment of your own case, for which no charge is made. Address: Swift Specific Co., 27 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

GIRL PASSES BAD CHECKS TO GET LUXURIES

Prof. Kennedy's Daughter Scatters Bad Paper Regardless After Father Spends All His Money to Save Her

Flowers and candy were the downfall of 18-year-old Kate Kennedy, who found that while she was a telephone girl in Berkeley she could maintain apartments at the Hotel Shattuck. Kate Kennedy, when she did not have money to pay for her good time and do those things that girls like to do, just wrote a check. Yesterday she was given into the custody of the Oakland Detention House. She did not hesitate to tell the new friends she found, although they were representatives of the law, just how she managed to always have some money and to obtain the small luxuries which her family could not give to her.

In her frankness there was an unusual element. When word reached the editors that the girl's mother, who lives in Hayward, was seriously ill, she was permitted to go to her bedside, and for a few days while her parent is recovering the fate of the Kate Kennedy who has been operating a system of frenzied finance will be held in abeyance. However, she still remains in the custody of the Detention House.

DAUGHTER OF PROFESSOR.
The young girl is the daughter of Professor P. E. Kennedy, professor of agronomy in the University of California. She was formerly a student in the Berkeley high school, but did not await graduation before clamoring to take a position so that she might do the pretty things that girls with fathers who were not college professors did as a matter of course. Professor Kennedy and his wife were separated, it is said.

Kate Kennedy committed her first offense against the law two years ago when she obtained a few dollars from a friend. It was made ad at that time and she followed straight path until a few weeks ago.

She held parties and good times and offering the little courtesies which they involve. When her friend gave a tea she sent a $2.50 basket of flowers. She adorned expensive candy and have plenty of it.
When Kate Kennedy was taken to the detention home yesterday she wore a shabby black satin dress, but a new winter hat. Three weeks ago she was before the Berkeley

KATE KENNEDY,
Berkeley girl, who admits having passed worthless checks to enable her to enjoy life.

police. Her waywardness continued until it was believed expedient to place her with the detention officers yesterday.

It was a case of rob Peter to pay Paul, those in charge assert. "Kate Kennedy is purely a mental case. We are waiting the report of Dr. Jan Hill before we decide what is expedient."

FATHER'S RESOURCES GONE.
Professor Kennedy has come to the end of his modest resources in meeting the debts of his daughter.

He says within the past month he has made good some $1000 in worthless checks. When his money was gone all he could do was to permit Detective A. E. McHenry of the Berkeley police to take charge of his daughter.

"I wanted to have a good time and live as rich girls do," is Kate Kennedy's explanation.

Hotel Shattuck and two department stores cashed checks for considerable amounts.

GIRL BECOMES FRANTIC.
Worthless checks aggregating some $500 were successfully passed by the professor's daughter during the past three weeks, police records showed today. According to the authorities the girl passed one check in a frantic effort to cover a previous bit of bad paper, and then when her tangles became too hopeless she gave up in despair and wrote checks
as her desires prompted her.

Miss Kennedy makes ready confession of actions and frankly admits that she knew when she drew the checks she had no funds to cover them.

DRAWING OF BOMB MADE BY EDWARDS

Officers Working on Greenwood Case Declare It Their Opinion Prisoner Is Guilty;
Statements Are Unshaken

Reports of alienists, who are to examine George Edwards, artist, who has "confessed" that he made and planted the bomb in the Greenwood dynamiting, will determine whether or not the youth will be charged with this crime or with insanity.

So declared Captain of Inspectors
Walter J. Peterson today, following another examination of the prisoner, whose confession is a psychological puzzle at police headquarters. Edwards today made complete drawings of the bomb, as he said he made it, showing in detail how he connected dry batteries, a spark coil, and a clock together in black powder surrounding a vial of nitro-glycerin. His drawings, inspected by City Electrician J. Hill, were pronounced mechanically correct. "The man is not crazy so far as his mechanical handling of the problem is concerned," Hill said after inspecting the drawing.

PRISONER CHEERFUL.

Edwards, who was arrested in Watsonville as a vagrant, and who confessed the Greenwood bombing to the police there, was in a cheerful mood today. He wrote letters to his mother in Los Angeles, asking her to send him some clothes, and referred briefly to the fact that he was in jail. "Write me and let me know what you think," he wrote. "There is much I will have to explain to you." Edwards insists that he is perfectly sane, and that "Conscience" drove him to the confession.

"The more I hear of his statements and his descriptions of what he did, the more I am impressed with the probability of his having told the truth," said Peterson.

"I cannot think otherwise, when everything he tells us is absolutely proved by investigation."

The one missing link continues to be Edwards' insistence that he planted the bomb at the front door of the Greenwood home at Eightteenth and Madison streets, whereas it exploded at the tradesman's entrance. Peterson's explanation is that Mrs. Greenwood may have picked up the package containing the bomb and carried it back.

OTHERS IN PLOT, BELIEF.
Peterson believes that if Edwards did plant the bomb it was at the insistence of others. Lack of motive strengthens this belief, according to Peterson. "With this mental type,"
said Peterson, "we find a ready tool for a criminal. In this case Edwards, mentally ill, could easily be induced to make and plant this bomb
for some fancied reason."

Edwards admits talking over the crime with others, and hints at the "inner circle" or circle that he said directed his movements. He refuses to implicate anyone else in his story of the bombing, however, and is reticent in mentioning names.

Gifts to Bride May Result in Capture of Alleged Army Forger

MRS. ROBERT VARNEY, who, with her husband, is being sought for having passed worthless checks in Berkeley, where they had established pleasant social connections.

BERKELEY, Sept. 24.—Pretty gifts which Lieutenant Robert Varney, alias Robert Kennedy—self-styled army hero who ruled as a social lion at fashionable hotels in the bay section during the past few weeks—bestowed upon his bride, may lead to his apprehension on a charge of passing a series of bad checks in various parts of the state.

During his stay in Berkeley at the Hotel Shattuck, Varney deviated from his usual method of procuring and, instead of securing ready money, is alleged to have floated a bit of bad paper at the Berkeley pharmacy in the hotel building to secure for his pretty young wife an attractive array of ivory toilet articles for her dressing table. In payment for the gifts he offered $3 in cash and $20 in the form of a check, which was accepted by J. C. Clayworth, proprietor of the pharmacy.

At the Hotel Shattuck and the Fairmont hotel, and other fashionable hostilities in the bay section, Varney and his bride won ready access to social circles and were feted and dined at a round of social compliments. Of an apparently shy, retiring nature, the handsome young army officer only told of his prowess on the field of battle after a certain amount of persuasion, and then launched forth upon a tale of heroic deeds which won him ready friendships. His wife he introduced as his bride, who had remained faithful through the trials and hardships of war and whom he had just led to the altar.

According to police officials in Santa Barbara, where the couple is wanted for alleged bad check offenses covering several hundred dollars, the self-styled hero and his bride are the cleverest pair of bad check workers that ever visited that city. But one check was passed in Berkeley as far as the police can as-ertain at present.

AIR TERMINALS IN MAIL ROUTE ARE INSPECTED

Following Visit by Paul Fer-ron Postoffice Department Is Considering Three Fields
in Oakland Dist. Site Quest

Consideration is being given today by the United States Postoffice Department of three air fields in the Oakland district as possible sites for the coast terminal of the proposed transcontinental air route, following a thorough inspection of the possibilities in Oakland and Alameda made yesterday evening by Paul L. Ferron of the division of aerial mail of Washington, D. C.

Of all the sites viewed Ferron picked the Alameda marsh as the best. This landing field is now being developed by the air field committee of the harbor development committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce.

OTHER SITES VIEWED.
At next best, Ferron preferred the Durant field at the foot of Eighty-second avenue. This field already is in excellent shape and is ready for planes to land or take off. The only disadvantage it has under the Alameda field is its distance from the heart of the city.

The third field inspected by Fer-ron was a stretch of land on a south side of the tidal canal in Alameda stretching from the high street bridge to the Fruitvale bridge.
As an emergency field this was found not acceptable, the main objection to it being its narrowness.

Ferron was escorted to the various fields by J. B. Struble, military amateur sportsman, who has been flying in this section for the last four years in a hydroplane and is therefore thoroughly familiar with aerial conditions.

SERVICE NEXT SPRING.
Ferron says the government will be prepared to inaugurate its service next spring, and it wants to be thoroughly prepared with landing fields. A three-day schedule between coasts will be maintained.
Only first class mail will be carried at first in double-motored De Havilland planes.

According to Ferron, the Eastbay section is highly favored because of the absence of fogs and the long stretches of level land, which make for steady air currents.

He went to Redwood City today to look over conditions at the flying field there.

Red Cross Notes

Where is Edward Timmel, formerly of 3601 Telegraph avenue? A letter is held by the American Red Cross addressed to Edward Timmel
from Frau Agnes Troimmer, Zwickau, Sax., Bismarckstr. The directory does not reveal his whereabouts. Timmel or anyone knowing his present whereabouts is asked to communicate with Oakland chapter, American Red Cross, 587 Twelfth street.

HIT BY AUTO.
Struck by an automobile driven by George D. Scott, James McGaw, a shipworker, was knocked from his motorcycle today before the Sixteenth street station, suffering painful bruises and contusions.

DURANT IS MAJ AERIAL POLICE

Cliff Durant, automobile enthusiast, is the first "policeman" in the west. He pointed a regular member of the land police force today by assigning "special aerial duty." Durant he will be used in case of emergencies where a policeman airplane could be of service.
Durant will rank as a pa-troll until further provision is made on the special salary of a director. The new "aerial policeman" manager of the Chevrolet autometry and famous as a racing driver.

FASHION PLATE OF AMERICA APPEARS IN FILM VERSION OF CHAMBERS' NOVEL

IRENE CASTLE, who danced her way to fame and then was discovered as the most smartly clad woman in America, is at the Kinema today in
"The Firing Line."

Irene Castle with a wardrobe that would move a queen to envy, is appearing at the Kinema today in "The Firing Line," the effective dramatization of Robert W. Chambers' novel.
"The Firing Line" is not a story of war, but of love and is one of Chambers' most popular novels. It has been skillfully transferred to the screen and charmingly shown, stirring adventures, laughter, love and tears.
In the proper proportions make the photoplay a fascinating entertainment.
Irene Castle in the role of Sheila Cardow, is a charming heroine, and the proper atmosphere for the story is found among the flowers and hazards of Florida. When the picture was filmed, R. W. Steel takes the part of John Garret Hamill and David Powell that of Louis Malcourt.
Clarice Vance, whose clever character songs were a feature of the Kinema program last week, will sing a new set of songs, assisted by Tom Mitchell. Miss Vance has recently returned from England where she has spent the past two years entertaining convalescent soldiers in the British hospitals.
"Treat 'Em Rough," the latest Mack Sennett comedy, the Pathé
Review and The TRIBUNE-Kinema
Weekly complete the program.
Wallace Reid in "The Valley of the Giants," selected from the story of the same name by Peter B. Kyne, is playing today at the Franklin theater. Advertisement.

FUNDS ROLL IN
FOR HEALTH

Photographic story of persons and incidents identified with the opening of the first baby clinic to be instituted through the efforts of the Alameda County Public Health Center. The clinic was opened in Plymouth Center. Shown here, from left to right, are: DR. MARY POWELL, DR. CHARLES L. KLOSS, MAURICE H. HUNTER; in the scale, little MISS BARBARA RUETER and MISS WINIFRED FORGE, visiting nurse of the Baby Hospital.

Returns of the first three days of the week's campaign to accumulate funds for the purchase of a site, the erection and equipment of an institution which will efficiently accommodate the Alameda County Public Health Center, promise that with continued effort on the part of the executive committee and the aid of the community, the required $200,000 will be contributed.

The women's campaign committee will inaugurate their work tomorrow, covering ground which has been overlooked by the men's committee. An information tent has been established at Fourteenth street and Broadway, and stations established at all centers of travel. The following chairmen have been directing the drive among professional and business men and the churches: dentists' committee, Dr. J. Camp Dean; manufacturers' committee, Leslie Oliver; churches, William-Nat Friend. David Oliphant, chairman of the speakers' division, which has assigned prominent men and women to public gatherings this week to explain the scope of the health center. Miss Annie Florence Brown, addressed Technical High School student body yesterday as well as Durant School Mothers' Club.

Dentists throughout Alameda county have rallied to the appeal of Dr. Dean, president of the Alameda County Dental Association, who reports substantial contributions to the purchase and building fund. Dental talent has been mobilized to serve in the clinics in an effort to correct the survey which has been made of local school children revealing the fact that but one in four has good teeth. Social service workers will co-operate with the work of the dental clinic. The committee which is assisting Dr. Dean includes: A. B. Howe, Sheriff; J. H. Hall, Harry D. Smith, W. E. Gains, C. F. Jarvis, Harry P. Carlton, N. H. McCabe.

CUTICURA HEALS
BLISTERS ON FACE

Very Disfiguring. Caused Swelling and Itching. Could Not Sleep.

"About four weeks after having a very bad case of poison ivy, my face broke out in water blisters about the size of a pinhead. They were very disfiguring as they caused swelling and itching, and I could not sleep at all. My face would perspire so that water ran in a stream, and I had to have a towel on my neck.

"I used Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Tablets. In about a week I could see a change, and in three weeks I was completely healed."

COAST MEN ARE
'PERSHING PETS'

California men in General Pershing's picked escort, better known as "Pershing's Pets," were many, according to word received here from one-time residents of this state now living in Washington, D. C. and the soldiers from Western states formed a favorable proportion of the entire personnel. Alameda county men participated in four great parades as personal escorts to Pershing—in Paris July 4, in London's Victory Day celebration, in New York when the First Division and General Pershing were honored at the national capital.

Among Alameda county fighters whose physical fitness and soldierly ability counted in their selection as members of the best regiment were: Private George and Private Clarke, Oakland, and Corporal Lehman of Hayward. Other Californians were: Sergeant Cassidy and Sergeant Collins of San Anselmo; Sergeant King of Visalia and Corporal Armstrong, Corporal Fletcher and Corporal Allison of Fresno.

Colored Man Shot
3 Times by Woman

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—Called to the door of a Pacific street social club early this morning by Rose Pattillo, a negro, Charles Walton, colored, suffered three serious gunshot wounds when the woman opened fire on him with a revolver. One bullet struck in the man's back, another his thigh and a third his knee. He fell in the doorway. Patrolman R. D. Hughes, hearing the shots, rushed to the place and captured the woman.

Walton is at the Emergency hospital, where it is thought that he will recover. Neither the man nor the woman will tell the reason for the shooting.

THEY ALL LIKE
THE CANDY TASTE

Grownups as well as children prefer PURLLETS when a laxative is necessary—and in these days of rather careless eating and living some bowel eliminant is frequently needed.

The reasons for PURLLETS being favored are many and logical. They taste like candy; they are pleasant in their action and after effect; they are completely efficient as a laxative.

PURLLETS relieve constipation, and the many ailments due to torpidity of the liver and bowels. They contain no drastic purgatives and therefore restore the natural tone to the bowels and help to re-establish normal functions.

25-cent boxes of PURLLETS contain 30 tablets. Sold in all stores of The Owl Drug Company. Advertisement.

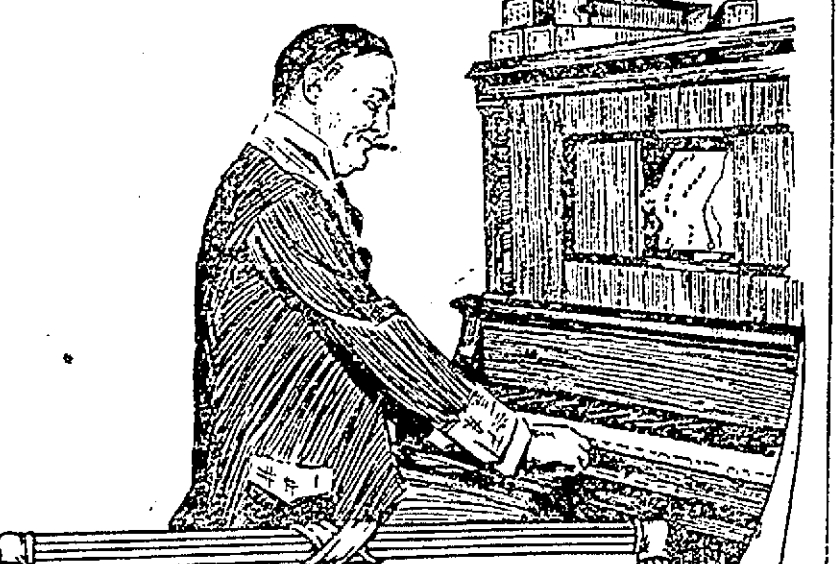

Wife Given Divorce
and $1 as Alimony

Judge A. F. St. Sure awarded a divorce to Mrs. Myra Villa Livermore against A. B. Livermore, together with the custody of their two boys, $50 a month for their support, and $1 a month for herself today, at the conclusion of the trial.

The plaintiff did not ask for alimony but the judge made the $1 order so that she could come into court later. If circumstances made it necessary, and ask for more. Without any alimony award at the time of the trial, the judge explained, she would be forever barred. The divorce was granted on the grounds of cruelty.

Jingle Jinks
by Harvey E. Workgate

DISCONTENT

The world is topsy-turvy and it's filled with discontent, we kick about the weather and we roar about the rent; no matter what our calling and no matter what we do, we always are complaining and we're always in a stew.

The grocer would go farming, but the farmer would go mining; but the miner's tired of it; the cobbler would go fishing, but the fisherman are sore, because there is no profit in the business any more.

The lawyer would be preacher, but the preacher likes the stage; the baker would be plumber, for he likes the plumber's wage; the plumber would be mayor, but the mayor says he's broke, and if he makes a living he may have to peddle coke.

The actor's discontented and he'd like to own a grill, because, you see, the waiter wouldn't bring him any bill; and I would be a rancher and produce some blooded colts, but have to grind out sonnets and deliver Jingle Jinks.

WOMEN LOOKING FOR PLACES ON LEAGUE BODIES

LONDON, Sept. 12. (Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Representatives of various women's organizations met at Caxton hall recently to consider what should be done to secure adequate representation of women in the various bodies which will be associated with the League of Nations.

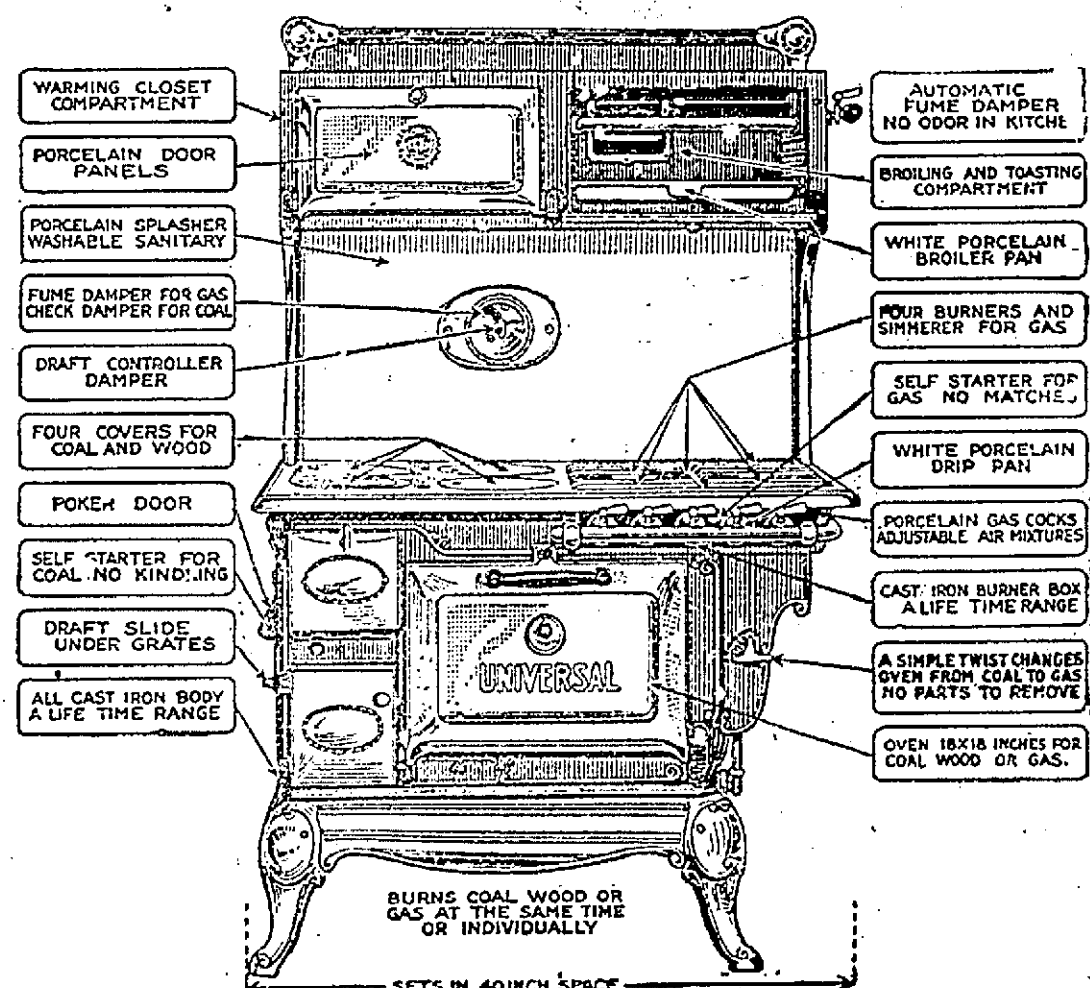

The covenant of the league provides that all parties connected with the league, including the secretariat, shall be open equally to men and women.

Resolutions were adopted urging the government to see to it that women obtained fair representation in the assembly of delegates, the international court of justice, and all other commissions to be set up by the league. A list of suitable women candidates for such appointments will be submitted to the governments.

BARREL SAVES THE DAY.
PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 24.—Mrs. Peter Joslin alleges her husband tore the covers off her body, objecting to her wearing them. Fortunately she was working in a barrel factory at the time.
